Malware Alert - Cyber Pandemic Known As ...

On June 2, 2014, the Department of Justice and the FBI announced a multinational effort to disrupt the dangerous cyber pandemic known as GameOver Zeus. The malware, which the FBI estimates has hit between 500,000 and one million computers worldwide, is believed to be responsible for the theft of millions of dollars from businesses and consumers. Boost Your Broadband...

When you use the Internet, you are uploading and downloading data. This is known as your broadband usage. Factors affecting your broadband usage include the number of devices online, the amount of time online, and what type of online activities you do. Some online activities require more broadband usage than others. For example, video streaming takes up much more data than browsing a simple webpage.

To get an idea of the varying amounts of broadband usage for different online activities, take a look at the list below. Each example requires about one GB of data:

- 68 YouTube videos
- 293 digital songs (mp3 files)
- 512 digital photos
- 1 hour of standard definition TV
- 7 minutes of HD TV
- 1 hour of a movie

Some Internet providers such as your cellular provider, meter broadband services and impose data caps on their Internet plans. By doing so, these providers only allow you a set amount of data to be used each billing cycle, which can limit what you can do with your broadband plan. Anything above the allotted data amount is charged to you at an inflated rate.

Santel Communications DOES NOT place a data cap on the Internet service we provide, which allows our customers the freedom to use their broadband connection the way that best fits their lifestyle.

We also offer varying broadband speeds to meet your Internet needs.

If you or your family streams many movies and TV programs each month, often uses several devices simultaneously, or enjoys online gaming, you may want to boost your Internet speed. Santel customers have a choice of several package speeds to choose from. If you are unsure of what plan is right for you, give us a call and we'll help you choose the right speed for you.

This Month's FAQ - What Does The Acronym RAT Mean?

Question: I've seen the acronym RAT used in computer articles but am confused by its meaning. Does it stand for Remote Access Tool or Remote Access Trojan?

Answer: Actually, RAT can stand for either Remote Access Tool or Remote Access Trojan. What's the difference? A Remote Access Tool is a piece of software used to remotely access or control a computer; it can be used legitimately by system administrators for accessing client computers. For example, the IT person at your company could use a Remote Access Tool to see what's on your computer screen and help you troubleshoot a problem.

When a Remote Access Tool is used for malicious purposes by hackers, it's known as a Remote Access Trojan. This type of RAT (aptly named) infects the victim's machine to gain administrative access and allows hackers to perform unauthorized operations. To prevent unknowingly allowing a Remote Access Trojan to invade your computer, avoid unsolicited email attachments and links, run up-to-date security software, and don't believe anyone who contacts you claiming to be tech support for a major company.

Short Tutorial - How To Adjust Who Sees Your Facebook Posts

If you have a large number of Facebook friends, it's likely this list includes people who are actually distant acquaintances. Should you decide you don't want these people seeing all of your Facebook posts, simply follow the steps below to adjust your default audience.

Locate Privacy Settings

1. On your Facebook home page, click the down arrow on the top-right part of the screen.
2. From the menu, choose Settings.
3. You will be brought to a page titled General Account Settings.
4. In the left column, click Privacy.
5. You will be brought to a page titled Privacy Settings and Tools.

Adjust "Who Can See My Stuff"

1. On the Privacy Settings and Tools page, under "Who Can See My Stuff," next to "Who can see your future posts," click Edit.
2. You will see an image that looks like the status update box. Click the down arrow at the bottom of this image.
3. Select who you want to be the default audience for your posts (remember, you can change this each time you post). Then click Close.
4. Click the other links in this section and follow the instructions to adjust past posts.
